

Seminar on Foreign Investment and Expectations from Fresh Graduates as Potential Entrepreneurs

To prepare students for today's changing world by improving their knowledge and skills to meet the demands of employers and the realities of the workplace, Alumni Association of North South University (AANSU) organized a seminar on "Foreign Investment and Expectations from Fresh Graduates as Potential Entrepreneurs" on 30th September, 2014 at NSU seminar hall.

Mr. Shiro Sadoshima, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of Japan was the chief guest where Mr. Vivek Sood, CEO, Grameenphone and Mr. Nahar Mahmood, Managing Director, Novartis had shared their views about recruiting fresh graduates. Speakers in seminar quoted that high grade point average alone does not guarantee employment. They emphasized more on student's communication and language skill which is beneficial for them to work in future as a team. Dr. K. G Moazzem has given a resourceful presentation on foreign investment of Bangladesh as keynote speaker of the seminar.

Mr. Benajir Ahmed, Chairman of The BOT, attended the session as a special guest where he urged, In economies with limited job opportunities, entrepreneurship is seen as a viable option for new graduates to chart their own future by setting up an own businesses. Dr. Amin U Sarkar, Vice Chancellor of NSU was the chair of the session. In beginning he congratulated AANSU for their successful initiatives in a very short time. He also said that communication skills are very important since everyday in our life we need to communicate with different kinds of people around us and having good communication skills can improve our relationship with them.

The President of AANSU Mr. M Nayeem Hossain coordinated the seminar.